NEWCASTLE

New Castle, Jan. 12.—The evening service at the Congregational church Sunday was especially interesting and instructive. Dr. Hanson gave a short history of the life of Charles Wesley, also touching upon the life of his much loved brother John Wesley. One of the things which is indelibly stamped on the mind of the writer's memory is the incident in the life of John Wesley. While out walking with a friend one day an intoxicated man passed them. His companion brought the stranger's condition to his notice and Wesley said "But for the grace of God there goes John Wesley." What an area of truth to those who are prone to criticize. It is very helpful to have Dr. Hanson refresh our memory on the writings of these hymns. Charles Wesley wrote the immortal hymn "Jesus Lover of my Soul." The pastor gave several pathetic instances of his having been sung. Seemingly no great tribute was ever paid to those plaintive lines than when the band played "Cover my defenceless head. With the shadows of thy yoke, as down they sink on the ill fated Titanic. Dr. Hanson's sermon about the lines of life's railway to Heaven was very thrilling and held the attention of the congregation closely. At the conclusion Mrs. Haywood and Mr. Noyes by request sang Billy Sunday's spiritual song of praise, "Life's Railway to Heaven. Life is like a mountain railroad with an engineer that's brave. We must make the run successful from the cradle to the grave. Watch the hills the curves the tunnels never falter, never fail. Keep your hand upon the throttle and your eye upon the rail."

Blessed Saviour thou will guide us till we reach that blissful shore Where the angels wait to join us in Thy praise forever more.

You will roll up grades of trial, you will cross the bridge of strife, see that Christ is your conductor on this lightning train of life. Always mindful of obstruction do your duty never fail.

Keep your eye upon the throttle and your eye upon the rail. You will often find obstructions, look for storms of wind and rain, on a hill or curve or trestle they will almost ditch your train. Put your trust alone in Jesus, never falter, never fail.

Keep your hand upon the throttle and your eye upon the rail. As you roll across the trestle spanning Jordan's swelling tide, you behold the Union Depot into which your train will glide here you'll meet the Superintendent. God the Father, God the Son. With the heavy joyous plaudit, weary pilgrim, welcome home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith passed the week end at their former home in Portland.

OSBORNE CHARGES POLITICS ARE BACK OF CHARGES

Prison Reformer at North Church Bitterly Arraigns His Critics Claiming That They Are Using the Same Underhand Methods as at Sing Sing

Lieut. Commander Thomas Mott Osborne, U. S. N. R., commanding officer of the Naval Prison, replied to the charges made against the prison and reviewed the work of the prison under his management, before a crowd which took every available seat in the North Church on Sunday evening. It was a sympathetic audience and all gave him very close attention in his long address. It was under the head of "My two and a half years in the Naval Prison."

Mr. Osborne said that the same corrupt methods were being used here at the naval prison to discredit his work, as were employed in Sing Sing prison in the charges that were made against him there. He said that "corrupt politicians" were behind the present trouble and laid a good part of it to two or more of the men who have been at the prison, and one in particular who was so bad that he had to be transferred to the state prison in Concord. He reviewed his experience in Sing Sing and the fight that was made there to get him, and he bitterly arraigned Ex-Governor Whitman and the politicians of that state who were back of the movement, and said that it was Whitman's attitude on that prison investigation which resulted in his defeat by the people of New York two years ago.

He intimated that the politicians were using the same methods but he did not name any of the "politicians" or intimate that there were any of them in this state or in Maine. He also did not intimate that there were naval officers back of the present charges that have been made against the prison.

Mr. Osborne said that there had been no investigation of the naval prison by the Department of Justice. That the two men who said that they were the department of Justice agents were fired by the same bunch of corrupt politicians who had been seeking to discredit his work. He said that the agents has not been at the prison and that the Secretary of Navy, Mr. Daniels did not know about the investigation or did Attorney General Palmer.

He denied absolutely that charges had been made against the prison, but that the coming investigation by Asst. Secretary Roosevelt, had been brought about by request to Secretary Daniels. His resignation which had been sent in had been withdrawn and if Mr. Daniels will allow him, he will remain here and fight the matter to a finish.

Referring to the attacks upon his management of the prison in the Army and Navy Journal he said that the last two editorials had been libelous and that he had already started a suit against that paper. He devoted some time to his assistant, Chief Yeoman William Duffy who has been more or less in the limelight through his two marriages and being indicted by the Superior court. Mr. Osborne said that Duffy was the himself being represented, and related a recent affair in Syracuse to uphold his statement, he did however say that he did not uphold Mr. Duffy in all of his acts. He said that he was a good, faithful man who had made good and who was invaluable in the work of the Mutual Welfare league at the prison. In the course of his talk he said that the Mutual Welfare league was an experiment but that it was working out remarkably well.

Referring more directly to his work at the prison he said that since he had been at the prison there had been 6550 prisoners pass thru the prison. Of these 2442 had been reinstated to duty and they had made good. 3138 had been given a dishonorable discharge and eight had escaped. He said that of the large number who were given dishonorable discharges more could have been reinstated except from the rule which forbids men who desert in time of war from being reinstated.

SENATE HAS BILL TO MEET RADICALISM

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Jan. 11.—An anti-sedition bill, prescribing severe penalties for acts or propaganda advocating overthrow of the Government by force or violence, was passed by the Senate

Saturday without a record vote. The measure now goes to the House.

Maximum penalties fixed in the bill are a fine of $50,000 and five years' imprisonment, applying to all acts or circulation of literature in furtherance of forcible overthrow of the Government. The bill also takes from the mails any matter advocating force or sabotage.

Principal attack of the bill was aimed at the mail exclusion section, which opponents declared would confer press censorship powers on the Postmaster General. Under an amendment by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, accepted by the Senate, persons against whom this clause is invoked can appeal to Federal courts.

The bill prohibits persons from advocating or advising, by speech, writing, or printing, the forcible overthrow of the United States or of all Government, or by physical injury to persons, or property. It also would penalize attempts or acts hindering execution of laws or Federal agents in their duty.

Another section prohibits display of flags, banners or emblems intended to symbolize advocacy of force against the Government.

Acts violating the act would be subject to deportation and permanent exclusion after serving the imprisonment period.

Time to Apply the Brakes.

The inaugural address of Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts was, of course, addressed to the Legislature of that state and designed for the guidance of that body, yet what he said on the subject of economy is so applicable to the entire country that interest therein can not and should not be restricted to the law makers and people of Massachusetts.

Governor Coolidge does not want real needs neglected, but calls for economy in the true sense of the term. He proposes not a policy of recession, but of conservation. He declares that all progress is the result of economy and that in the practice of this the government ought always to lead. He points out the difference between war times and peace times and says: "We have encountered and overcome our peril, but there is a tendency to maintain the same lavish expenditure. Government expenses must now be reduced from a war to a peace basis."

That is one plain truth whose application clearly cannot be restricted to Massachusetts. And he states another when he points out that taxes have to be paid by the public. "They cannot," he says, "be imposed on any class. There is no power that can prevent a distribution of the burden. The landlord may be the one who sends a check to the public treasury, but his tenants nevertheless make the payment. A great manufacturer may contribute a large share of his income, but still the money comes from the consumer. Taxes must and do fall on the people, in whatever form or name they are laid. The duty that government now owes to the people is to reduce their burdens by paying off the obligations that came from the war, rather than imposing additional burdens for the support of new projects."

Here are facts which may well be pondered not only by the Massachusetts Legislature, but by the Legislatures of all the states and by Congress. In prosecuting the war it was necessary to move fast and forcefully, and it was practically impossible to stop to count the cost. But, now that the war is a thing of the past, there should be a very careful counting of costs. The tendency alluded to by Governor Coolidge "to maintain the same lavish expenditure" is natural, perhaps, but it is one that should be carefully guarded against.

It is time for the people and their legislators to give serious thought to this matter. Many such expenditures as were necessary in war time are needlessly extravagant now and it is time to begin to apply the brakes. The tax payers are willing to meet all legitimate demands upon their resources, but they feel that the time has arrived for curtailment in many directions, to the end that their burden may be kept within reasonable limits.

What Governor Coolidge has said on this subject should and will be heard throughout the land, and it should also be heeded. The country should be getting back from a war basis to a peace basis, and to this end one of the first and most important steps to be taken is the reduction of taxation to the largest possible extent consistent with safety and the proper maintenance of our institutions.

TENDENCY TO NUDITY IN FASHION

London, Dec. 26 (by mail).—Cardinal Amette a few days ago, in a pastoral letter denounced the abbreviated garments for women popularized by Parisian fashions. Father Bernard Vaughan of London, who in the past has said many hard things of the fashions and extravagances of the rich, has now, in an interview, followed the cardinal's example. He said:

"When I ask myself what is inspiring this tendency to nudity in women's modern costume, my answer is it cannot be a rightful desire to promote the health of our debutantes because today's want of clothes is savagely exposing them to consumption and its kindred ailments, not by hundreds but by thousands. No I am assured by competent authority. Our girls who ought to live to a ripe old age, drop, drop and die like flowers unfed by warmth and sunshine. Improperly fed and immediately dressed they defy all the laws of hygiene and down they go."

"Nor can the object in prevailing fashions be a love of true and beautiful, for never did fashions, as they do today, so gravely militate against the canons of good taste and the laws of symmetry."

"I cannot but arrive at the conclusion that today's fashions are designed and cut, not to drap the human figure and keep it warm, beautiful, and comfortable, but on the contrary, it would seem, that today's so-called costumes are created with the set purpose of awakening in man 'wholly desires and perhaps of fanning into fever flames those already kindled.'"

"How much conduct can be defended it is impossible for me as a Christian man to conjecture. Personally, I feel quite sure that studied immorality on the part of girls defeats its own ends. A decent girl who intends to marry a girl and make her the queen of his heart and mistress of his home, is not going to elope for his partner, 'ill death do them part,' a girl who has no little respect who does not even know how to clothe herself decently."

DECRIES HIGH LIVING CRAZE

Boston, Jan. 12.—Guy Ham declared in an address at a chapel meeting of the First Baptist church last night that although 1920 is ushering in an era of unprecedented prosperity for the United States it will also be a forerunner of a series of financial crashes and attendant misery for the people at large, unless immediate action is taken to check the mad wave of riotous living and extravagance that is spreading over this city and other parts of New England.

He deplored the feeling of carelessness and indifference that is manifest among the "inflated wage earning" classes, pointing out that thrift and economy must be practiced if a horrible day of reckoning in the near future is to be averted.

NAVY YARD NOTES

Ship Under Quarantine
The crew and officers of the torpedo boat destroyer Cato, now at the Charlestown navy yard, were placed under quarantine yesterday after a sailor attached to the craft had been found to be suffering with spinal meningitis. The sailor was removed to the Chelsea naval hospital. All work on and about the ship was ordered suspended.

Want Instructions
Officers of the Charlestown yard supply office have asked for instructions regarding the disposition of $1,000,000 pounds of butter which the navy is about to put on sale.

Will Put in at Boston
The destroyer Itasca will put in at Boston yard on the way from Portsmouth to Norfolk.

Daniels Commends Men
Eight enlisted men of the navy have been commended by Secretary Daniels for gallantry displayed in saving human life.

For rescuing persons from drowning, the secretary commended Hontela's Mate John H. Full, Newport, R. I., and Salvatore Donnelly, 108 Salem street, Boston.

Brigham Was Good
Edward Brigham of New York in his work at the naval prison and yard auditorium on Sunday was the best entertainer seen and heard of the reservation in many days. He is an exceptionally fine baritone and was so pleasing to the men of the naval prison that he has been engaged to return on Saturday next for an entire program to be given exclusively at the prison.

To Build Up Reserve Corps
Plans for building up a great naval reserve force by the establishment of summer training courses for high school and college youths at the naval training stations will be presented to Congress by Secretary Daniels in the near future. Mr. Daniels said he would like to see a class of 10,000 placed in training at the Great Lakes station alone next summer.

Tickets Going Good
The tickets for the game between the yard basketball team and Newburyport Wednesday night are going fast and a record crowd is promised.

The supplementary register at the labor board office in operation during the war has been eliminated and in the future helpers and others applying for work where no apprenticeship is required must have had at least six months' experience in their line of work.

Will Take Census on Ship
Carpenter Arthur J. Hook has been designated as the census enumerator for the receiving ship Southern.

Efficiency Will Count
All commands have been notified that in case of discharge for lack of funds of former reserves, now doing civil service work, the matter of efficiency must be considered. It will appear that those having the best records will likely remain the longest with Uncle Sam.

Elect Officers Tonight
The Mutual Aid Association of the local yard will hold its annual election of officers tonight in Odd Fellows Hall at 8:15 at which time the treasurer's report will be read and consolidated other business of the organization transacted.

PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

Why Destroy Property?

Editor:
Your paper recently defended the workmen on the city ash collecting wagons who, as you say, are obliged to lift barrels, boxes, etc., which should be done by a derrick. That may be so, but why not a word for the public, who have for years met with the loss of good barrels and other rubbish receptacles by the acts of city drivers and helpers who delight in smashing the property of people by throwing the same from the carts onto the sidewalk.

This practice should be checked by the Superintendent of Public Works or by better judgment on the part of the men employed in this branch of the city's work.

Ash cans, barrels, etc., cost money and no good reason can be offered for wrecking the property of people.

ADVOCATE SURRENDER OF KAISER

New Fatherland League Adopts Resolutions on the Subject.

Berlin, Jan. 10.—In resolutions passed at a public meeting of the New Fatherland League here today, Germans are urged to turn over former Emperor William for trial by the allies.

"In signing the treaty of Versailles," the resolutions said, "Germany consented to the trial of William II. It is therefore, the duty of the German people to execute the treaty, and every attempt to prevent procedure against the former Kaiser must be branded as a crime."

One speaker declared William, with his "eccentric mysticism," and former Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, were not responsible for the "criminal game played with Serbia," said that German diplomacy was helpless in the face of operations by "men higher up."

Herr Von Gerlach, Radical Democrat, argued the surrender of William would strengthen the reactionary wave in Germany and warned the entente to decide from carrying out treaty provisions calling for the trial of the erstwhile monarch. He urged the establishment of a neutral court for a trial adding: "The German people must definitely cut itself loose from this man."

The annual business meeting of the Court Street Christian church will be held next Tuesday evening when important business will be acted upon.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

An interesting sermon was given by the rector, Rev. Nelson Kellogg, Sunday morning, who drew many striking analogies between the visit of the wise men to the Christ child and the methods of people seeking the Savior today. It was heard with attention by a good sized congregation. The text was Matthew 2:1. The services on Sunday were well attended.

A distinct loss is sustained by the parish in the departure of Captain Harry L. Wyman, who was ordered to duty in foreign waters by the government. Capt. Wyman served the church in the capacity of Junior Warden for two years, and was immensely popular with all, as well as being a man of wonderful ability, with untiring devotion in his efforts to advance the interests of the church.

A meeting in the interest of the Churchmen's Alliance was held at the rectory Sunday afternoon. The purpose of this organization which is being formed throughout the country is to unite loyal churchmen in defense of the essential principles and historic doctrines of the church and to work for Christian unity consistent with the faith of the Fathers.

The Girls' Friendly club will meet at the parish house at 7.30 p. m. on Thursday.

The Women's Guild will meet at the home of Miss N. P. Walker, 72 Islington street, Thursday at 2.30 p. m.

The Boy Scouts will hold their meeting at 7.30 Tuesday evening.

PACTO HOLD A BALL

The Portsmouth Athletic Club are to hold their second annual ball in February and predict that it will be even more of a success than their first ball of last year. At a meeting of the club on Sunday afternoon the date was fixed for Feb. 12 and the Willworth orchestra of Somerville has been engaged for the music.

The committee in charge will be Arthur W. Horton, chairman; S. B. Shapson, H. W. Gray, E. E. Austin, C. W. Gray, R. G. McCarthy, G. J. Kauba, S. P. Newton and Captain E. R. Hoyt.

SOME COMMENTS AND STATEMENTS FROM MR. OSBORNE'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Osborne told of articles which had been in some of the big city dailies recently about some former convict now wealthy, giving a great sum of money to him to use for prison reform and also of a "Gray Brotherhood," which had been formed. Mr. Osborne said these stories were absolutely false; he did not know where they originated and there was no such organization as the "Gray Brotherhood." He knew nothing of the stories until he read them in the newspapers. Mr. Osborne read telegrams wherein he was quoted as having made adverse criticisms about this or that prison in certain states of the country and the sender asked where he received the information. To all these newspapers Mr. Osborne wired the same reply, saying he had never publicly or privately commented upon the conditions of such prisons, one, at least, of which he said he had never heard.

Mr. Osborne read letters from former inmates of the prisons, boys who had been restored to duty in numerous incidents and were making good. The letters were read to show the fine spirit of many of the boys, who, even though far away, remember their days at the "college on the hill" and write back to inquire about their "shipmates" and how things are going on at the Portsmouth naval prison. These boys write to Mr. Osborne, telling that many a needy person was given a lift through his kind heartedness. Noted for his jovial nature and kindly heart he made friends and kept them and congratulations are extended to him on his anniversary day and the hope that he may have many more.

They are making good and of other "shipmates" who are also making good. The fact stands out that while not all men make good who leave the naval prison, it has done great things for many. The speaker said it was pleasing to him to see that many of these men wrote to their "old jailers" to tell of their making good after leaving the naval prison and he gave the credit of it to the Mutual Welfare League, taking little of it to himself, although unflatteringly working for the League.

Mr. Osborne told how former prisoners appreciate getting the Mutual Welfare League's tuition, after their year of probation, thus enabling them to have their name on the roll of honor of the League. He told of one turbulent where a big fellow came to the prison after becoming a hero in the service, with his breast covered with medals for gallantry in action in the war. He returned after his year of probation to ask Commander Osborne if he had made good and was entitled to the title of member of the Mutual Welfare League. Upon being given it, the war hero was it as proudly as those which old of his gallantry in the service.

Mr. Osborne said many people speak of the naval prisoners as "convicts" and he said emphatically: "They are not convicts; few of these men are criminals."

While Mr. Osborne's address was his emphasis, so intensely interested was his audience that he could have held his close attention even an hour longer. While he was talking one could have almost heard a pin drop and at its close for a second or two there was silence and then there was an outburst of applause, something unusual in a church service—yet it seemed as if the audience of probably a thousand people must show the appreciation of Commander Osborne's good work at the naval prison and its confidence in one who has worked untiringly to be of some use to his fellowmen.

COMMUNITY CHURCH ENTERPRISE STARTED AT ATLANTIC HEIGHTS

Yesterday the new community church project for Atlantic Heights was launched under most favorable circumstances. Rev. W. S. Woodhull of Philadelphia representing the Home Missions Board of the Methodist church, preached both morning and evening to good audiences. The Sunday school, which has been suspended for a short time was reorganized. A corps of officers and teachers were nominated and will be presented next Sunday to the school for election. Services will be held regularly at the school-house as follows:

Morning services at 10.30. Sunday school at 11.30. Evening services, 7.30. Midweek services at 7.30 p. m.

The work is to go on steadily and it is the intention to develop a Community Center which shall serve the people of the Heights in every possible way. The willingness and intelligent enthusiasm of the people themselves is the best possible assurance of the successful development of the enterprise.

NORUMBEAGA LAUNCHED AT THE ATLANTIC

The big steel freighter Norumbega was successfully launched at the Atlantic Corporation ship yard at four o'clock on Saturday afternoon. It was one of the most successful of the launching held at the yard and it creates a record from the fact that the ship was perfectly finished when she took the water. Steam up and the engines were turned over to help in docking the craft.

Mrs. John L. Hemick of Brookline was the sponsor and she was accompanied by a number of Brookline friends. On the sponsor platform with her party were Governor Harlow, Mayor H. C. Haynes, Major F. W. Hartford and officers of the corporation. The traditional bottle of champagne was broken by Mrs. Hemick as the big craft started down the ways to the ship ways of the river yard and the deep throats of the ship yard whistles.

The ship ran well over to the Kittery shore before her launching lines and drag anchor swung her up stream and she came along side to assist in the docking.

The launching party were given a luncheon at the main office after the launching. Mrs. Hemick was presented by the corporation with a handsome basket of American Beauty roses.

The Norumbega which was named by the Brookline liberty bond committee for honors won in the Victory loan, is the fourth of the $800 steel freighters to be launched at this yard. She is a thirty built craft, built over board without a minute of overtime charged a low and demonstrates more than any of the previous ships that the Atlantic Corporation has the organization and equipment to turn out ships as quickly and as low cost as any of the yards in the country. She was practically finished and will be ready for her first trials in a few days, as the steam was all up and the engines in working order when she went over.

LOOKING THEM OVER WITH THE SPORT FAN

Basketball, which has been in a slump for the past few years, seems to have come into its own this season and about every city, town, and village in this state is represented by a team. The local season was officially opened here last Thursday night when Portsmouth and the regional met at Freeman's hall. The large crowd in attendance recalled to the minds of many those present the days of the old New England basketball league when Portsmouth was represented by one of the strongest teams in the country. While the Portsmouth players have considerable to learn about the finer points of basketball, Manager Crahan has the foundation of a winning team and under the coaching of "Heinie" the men will show rapid improvement. Manager Crahan says he intends to have a winning team in Portsmouth and it is likely that one or two Boston professionals will appear in the lineup of the local five at the next game when will be against the strong Portland A. C.

A boxing show is to be staged in this city the 21st of this month by the Bellevue A. C. Leon Smith, matchmaker for the club promises a strong card and is now looking about for a fast man to go against Dusty Kroll of Portland and it is possible that Young Gaudin, the Somersworth boy may be the man chosen to go against the Maine bayer. Denny Ryan of the Atlantic Corporation and Young St. Hillaire of Somersworth are down for the semi-final and the complete program will be announced soon. The club has made arrangements with Paddy Flynn of Everett to box here at a later show to be staged some time in February. Local boxing fans will recall that Flynn won from Al Nelson in this city several weeks ago.

The Portsmouth Navy Yard basketball team will play Newburyport in this city Wednesday evening. The yard boys have put up a good brand of ball in the few games they have played, and although they lost to Newburyport in that city a few weeks ago, these who have seen the yard team in action say that Newburyport is due for a trimming Wednesday evening.

Mike Yokel, ex-middleweight wrestling champion, is due to arrive in Portsmouth this week and will take part in the all star show to be staged in that city Thursday night. Close followers of the mat game do not hesitate to predict that when Mike gets ready to put up his home he will take the middleweight title with him. Yokel wrestled in this city last winter, defeating Bill Dwyer in a rough match.

Dusty Kroll, the soldier boxer from Fort McKimley, Portland, has been knocking them all for a goal in the Pine Tree State and last Monday night boxed a draw in that city with Fighting Downey of Boston. Friday night of last week he went to Berlin, N. H., where he was from Young Sullivan of Lewiston. Next Friday evening he is to box at Hildesford, Me. His opponent being Artie Williams of Hildesford. Williams has appeared in Portsmouth twice this year, losing to Billy Warden of the U. S. S. Huntington.

Sport News

(By Associated Press)

New York, Jan. 12.—Apparently Jack Dempsey will have to fight two men when he meets Georges Carpentier for the world's heavyweight championship, if the deductions of a London writer are correct. According to this authority, Dempsey, manager of Carpentier, poses some sort of a mystery with which he cast a spell over the public in the recent battle in London with the result that the French pugilist had an easy task in knocking out the defeated Britisher. In the words of the discoverer of this alleged dual combination which confronted Carpentier during the 70 odd seconds he stood before Carpentier, the strange influence made its effect felt as follows:

"There were two personalities fighting. Joe Beckett from the moment he entered the ring, Carpentier was one. The other was Dempsey's manager, Desamps. He is a very excellent man, 116 is a bundle of nerves, typically French, overflowing personality, whose individuality comes from every pore. Desamps says that when Carpentier meets Jack Dempsey, Carpentier will win in six rounds. Watch Desamps. He is the man who is riding Carpentier with all mental force. His naturally accompanies Carpentier in to the ring every fight. He is his unseen accomplice, and to him as to Carpentier is Beckett indebted for the blow on the jaw which finished the fight and took the championship of Europe out of his reach.

"What was Desamps doing as Joe Beckett came into the ring? Those who were near him tell me he was watching Beckett intently. The fact is, he began to fight Beckett as soon as Beckett stepped into the ring. Beckett was constantly whining around at Carpentier as he was getting his gloves adjusted. Then you have the personality of Desamps beginning to work, knocking itself on Beckett's brain and beginning the task of confusing the English boxer's thoughts. Possibly Desamps is not quite conscious of his own power, but it is all there all the same. This protection of personality is not deception, but it is to be seen operating everywhere.

"Desamps, they say, feels every defeat of Carpentier as a defeat for himself. If you took Desamps' mind to the analytical table you would find that he would make a first class medium. He is a psychic subject. His personality stands beside Carpentier in every match, for he has trained Carpentier's mind as well as his body. Carpentier acts as Desamps' will. That is why Beckett made the mistake at Ebbw Vale Stadium. Carpentier alone he might have beaten. Carpentier and Desamps were too much for him."

In the absence of a definite statement from the British Olympic council on the subject of preparation for the Olympic games at Antwerp this year, an English writer has obtained the opinions of three distinct personalities on athletics generally and the Olympic games in particular. These three are Lieut. Colonel Arnold, N. S. Jackson, an English officer and well known athlete; Sergeant Linton Hewitt, a soldier, who prior to the war had done much for athletics in Australia; and Charles B. Cochran, an English promoter of professional sports.

All three believe, he says, that the International Olympic committee made a great mistake in deciding to hold the games this year and that it will be impossible to reorganize the sport in sufficient measure to enable "Great Britain" to be adequately represented at Antwerp. In order to save the British prestige from injury it is suggested at Stockholm it will be necessary to spare no effort in securing the best possible team and make a united attempt to improve the British athletic standing.

With this subject in view, he writes: "All three agree that up to now the attempts at organizing Olympic teams have been a failure and that to get the best of our goods on show at Antwerp next year we must strike out on fresh lines. Also there is a general idea that instead of leaving the organization to the committee, and especially the financial end of it, in the hands of a scratch collection, we should call in the best business men to assist in devising a sound plan of campaign, one on which we can build, not merely for the 1920 games but for the future.

"It is generally agreed that the very first thing needed to the organization of an efficient Olympic team for Antwerp is money and plenty of it. As to the directions in which this money should be applied, and even how it should be raised, there are divergent opinions, but money must be found. I am very much of Mr. Cochran's opinion that money could be found by exploiting the public taste for sport itself."

and going to a draw last week with Young Jimmy Gardner of Philadelphia.

The Perrell should be convinced by now that he has about as much chance of winning from John Kilonis as he has from Earl Coddock. Perrell and Kilonis met for the "eleventh" time at Hildesford, Me., last Friday night and resulted in a tie for the fight with a third.

New Hampshire college basketball boys gave the Boston University team a humbling at Durham Saturday night. The score being 35 to 19. "Art" Davis of this city ended 11 of the free tries from the foul line, and "Red" Butler, another Portsmouth boy, threw four baskets.

Joe Shinkins, the western star, and John Kilonis, who is popular with local wrestling followers, will face each other on the mat at Freeman's hall tonight. Shinkins has been promised a bout with Kilonis if he eliminates Kilonis and the wrestler from the west says when the match is over, the Manchester Greek will be out of the running.

Dartmouth has lost a couple of real athletes in the declining intelligible of "Cubby" Murphy and Cogswell. Both men are accused of playing professional football in Cleveland under assumed names. Cogswell and Murphy were top-notchers in their line and it is to be regretted that they are to be lost to athletic competition for the remainder of their school days.

The basketball team from Building 89 at the navy yard and a team from the U. S. S. Huntington played a fast and interesting game in this city Saturday night, the Building 89 team winning by a score of 32 to 17.

The Springfield, Vt., basketball five which defeated the Portsmouth team in this city last Thursday night, made 17 straight Saturday night by defeating Hudson, N. Y., by a score of 23 to 10. Hobbs Vance and his youngsters are a fast outfit and it will take an exceptionally strong outfit to break their long string of victories.

It is said that George Murphy, brother of "Cubby" will follow his brother to Dartmouth. George is an all-around athlete and can play baseball, football and basketball in a capable manner.

COMPLETE SCHEDULE FOR STATE COLLEGE

Durham, Jan. 11.—The New Hampshire State college football schedule for 1920 was completed during the past week and the signing of two two-year contracts in football, one with Holy Cross and the other with Colby. They both become effective next fall. Colby will come to Durham November 6, and Holy Cross will play either at Manchester or New Hampshire will go to Worcester, the place to be decided upon at a later date, and depending wholly on conditions at Manchester for playing the game.

Other colleges on the schedule previously announced were Bates, Vermont, Mass. Argies, Maine and Conn. Argies. New Hampshire had offers to play other colleges but the dates conflicted with agreements already signed.

LINDSTROM WINS 17 AND LOSES 12 GAMES

Axel Lindstrom stands high among the list of Eastern fast ball pitchers, according to official averages. The local boy won 17 and lost 12 games during the season for an average of .536. He pitched 51 games, allowed 230 hits, scored 76 bases, 41 runs, struck out 129 men and permitted an average of .825 hits per inning.

Bill Tyler, the Derby, N. H., boy pitching for New Haven, did not fare so well. Bill won eight and lost 15 games.

EXETER WORKS HARD FOR OPENING GAME

Exeter, Jan. 11.—Coach Clarence Parker of the hockey team is working his candidates hard for the opening game of the season with the Stoneham High school team next Saturday. The rink was cleared of the snow yesterday and a hard practice session held the players being coached in the past.

KILONIS A WONDERFUL WRESTLER

John Kilonis will be seen in action this evening against Shinkins the Polish strong man who is expected to give the Greek a good run for the win. Kilonis is a wonderful wrestler a man with an iron constitution and a nerve that never fails him. He can wrestle every night in the week and still be in good condition. After his long grueling match with Kilonis in Boston, in which both men ended the bout absolutely exhausted, he wrestled a hard match the following night. Shinkins has the reputation of being a good man with wins over some of the best men of the country.

Manager Dow has matched Kilonis with Pinky Gardner for his next appearance in this city and this should be a match well worth traveling some distance to see. Both wrestlers in every sense of the word and wonderfully well and smooth working performers.

AT COUNTRY CLUB TRAPS

The practice shoot at the Country Club traps on Saturday afternoon developed into a three tie for first place in a fifty bird handicap, and two attempts to shoot off the tie both resulted in a tie between Lieut. Sorenson and Mr. Ashland.

There was only one squad and the dazzling snow made it rather hard at first to pick up the targets and the shooting was a little below the average. Ashland was high with 19 out of fifty with Sorenson second with 39, but with the system of handicap used they were tie on the gross. Fifty targets were used in five events of ten targets each.

YALE CALLS OUT ITS BOXING SQUAD

New Haven, Jan. 11.—Yale's first boxing team will be formed tomorrow night. Eddie Egan, acting captain and manager, issued a call tonight for candidates. Egan was the amateur heavyweight champion of this country at the Nationals in Boston last April and on July 4 of the inter-annual games at Pershing Stadium won the amateur middleweight championship of the allied armies. Yale is anxious to arrange matches with Harvard and Princeton. Mose King, a former Connecticut lightweight champion, will coach, assisted by Egan.

Notice is hereby given that DONALD F. YEATON becomes a member of our firm from Jan. 5, 1920.

TO ERECT NEW SCHOOL AND ASSEMBLY HALL

Will Remodel Old School for Town Hall at Greenland.

The town of Greenland has appropriated the sum of $25,000 for a new school house and assembly hall combined, to be erected of field stone on the site of the old Town hall, destroyed by fire last month.

Several of the citizens wanted the school combined with a new town hall but the majority favored the remodeling of the old brick school on Portsmouth avenue for that purpose and this will be done as soon as the new school is completed.

The new building will be one story with a seating capacity of 250 for entertainments and 160 school children.

The school committee has received plans from the firms of Ashlton & Huntress, Lawrence Dow, Harlow & Kimball and W. H. McLean of Boston.

It is expected that the committee will be ready to call for bids by February 1 and work possibly started before March 1.

THE HERALD HEARS

That an auto truck on a rampage in Worcester ran into a fire alarm box causing the alarm to sound.

That the Portsmouth Yacht Club has sent blue ribbon entries according to records produced at the lobster supper on Sunday night.

That the recent trip of two local fishermen to Great Bay was some bawling event.

That they went in style after the smelt and arrived and departed in an automobile which cost six bucks.

That one of the party says the smelt must have all been out of the bay that day as they didn't even get a bite.

That the big shipment which they were to send to Lisbon is still due at the Boston market.

That a woman at Bath, Me. surprised a bank official when she appeared with some Liberty Bond coupons and remarked, "I will pay for these now." She was quite pleased when the teller explained what the coupons meant.

That the doors of the famous Portland Hotel at Portland which have been closed to the public, have not been locked for more than 50 years, and nobody knows where the keys are now.

That one of the men arrested for breaking and entering cottages along the lake at Wolfboro and other places admitted that he found enough liquor in the camps to make considerable money.

That he got forty or more bottles which he disposed of at $6. each in Boston and other places.

That the owners of the camps took some chances leaving anything like liquor locked up in the unoccupied summer homes for the winter.

That more than 25,000 miles of wire is used to provide telephone service for the people of this country.

That there are 11,710,520 telephones, practically one for every nine persons and 21,176 exchanges. Nearly 22,000,000 calls were made during 1917.

That Boston barbers are to open war on laundries and will not stand for any more rise in prices for washing and ironing.

That they plan to do their own laundry and save 50 per cent which they claim is going to the alleged "trust."

SEND IN ONLY THE TOTAL POPULATION OF PORTSMOUTH

Lack of Space Will Not Permit Publication of Entire List Each Day.

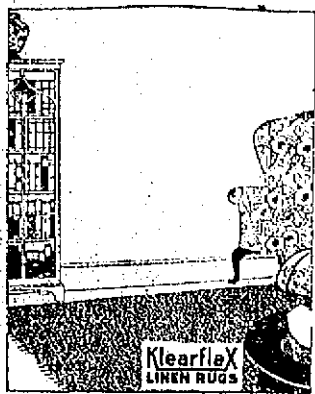

Readers of The Herald are advised to send in only the total population of Portsmouth in the population contest and not to be alarmed if their names are not published in the list on the day they send in their estimate slips. Owing to the large numbers taking part in the contest, it has become necessary to publish the list from day to day and prevent crowding out new entries. Later the entire list will be published.

TOMORROW EVENING

At Rousseau, formerly of the McElroy orchestra, with his orchestra "The Chimes" of Worcester, Mass., will play the weekly dance tomorrow evening at Freeman's hall. Mr. Dow has this team coming direct from Worcester which will make it an expensive attraction.

The Tuesday dance in this city is one of the best known similar attractions in New England. The highest grade music is looked for these events irrespective of expense and the clean and healthy manner in which the affair is conducted is bringing out a class of one people that are always careful as to their environments.

The orchestra will render a splendid concert program beginning at 8 o'clock and dancing will be in order from 8:30 till 12 o'clock.

Well, I Never Before Heard of a Linen Rug

exclaimed a lady who visited Margeson Brothers a few days ago. "But isn't it beautiful! And how reasonable in price! Please enter my order, and I believe it the best investment I have made in many a day!"

Come in and see these famous Klearflex Linen Rugs for yourself. Let us show you how the tough durability is given to them as the flax is piled, strand upon strand, until a weight of four pounds to the yard makes them thick and flat lying. They are reversible, which means, with their long-wearing qualities, practically two rugs in one. Moth-proof, too, remember! And such handsome, rich, solid colors.

Like Bengal Orientals, French Willows and other high grade products, it takes a store of the character and standing of this to dispose of these fine goods, and the factories come to us unsolicited for their distribution.

$10.00 IN GOLD

The census enumerators are now engaged in recording the population of this city. Portsmouth has grown considerably since the last census was taken in 1910, and the result is of great interest to every resident. The last census gave us a population of 11,359. What is it today? Try your luck at guessing. The HERALD will award a ten dollar gold piece to the one coming the nearest in estimating the total population. Start today. Fill out the printed blank and send in your figures. The HERALD will publish the list of names as they come in from day to day and later the entire list. Here is an opportunity for some pocket money. Each contestant restricted to one guess.

COMEAU-GRANT

A pretty ceremony was quietly performed Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. Lucius H. Thayer, D. D. at his residence, when Mrs. Georgia L. Grant of Portsmouth, was united in marriage to Mr. Joseph A. Comeau, formerly of Gloucester, Mass. The bride was attired in a bright, blue silk chiffon dress with handsomely embroidered bodice and front. She wore a picture hat of black velvet trimmed with robin's egg blue plumes. The bride's bouquet was a spray of pink and white. The groom wore a suit of dark brown. The bride was attended by Mrs. Harry Brown, while Mr. Harry Brown acted as best man. The double ring service was used. After the ceremony the party returned to the home of the bride where relatives and friends awaited them and a wedding luncheon was served. The dining room was prettily decorated with red, white and blue streamers, bells and flowers. The beautiful luncheon, heartily enjoyed by all, consisted of cold meats, lobster salad, pickles, peas, a variety of cakes, doughnuts, coffee, ice cream. After the luncheon cigars and fruits were served and everyone enjoyed the music furnished. The groom presented the bride with a solid gold locket and chain and the bride's gift to the groom was a solid gold watch. Other presents from relatives and friends were received by the happy pair. One of the guests present at the reception was Miss Alice Gilman of Wolfboro. The couple will accompany her when she returns and enjoy their honeymoon among the lakes and hills of old New Hampshire. After wishing the couple a joyful and prosperous future, the guests departed, but memories of the happy occasion will always remain.

John Kilonis, a popular wrestler in this city will appear tonight in Freeman's hall in a finish match against Joe Simkos, a product of the Middle West and known as the Polish Wonder. They will go best two out of three falls to a finish under catch-as-catch-can rules. No holds barred.

COASTING IS POPULAR

Many young boys enjoyed the sport of coasting Sunday, the snow being in perfect condition and the weather ideal for this healthful pastime. The traffic being light on most of the streets this day, the danger of colliding with these pleasures of the young was reduced to a minimum. Quite a number of strong double-runner sleds were on all the hilly streets.
